

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

HELD IN ORANGEBURG ON LAST FRIDAY

Persons Interested in Agriculture Hear Highly Interesting and Beneficial Addresses.

The Orangeburg correspondent of the State says an event of unusual interest and importance to persons interested in agriculture was the Clemson college farmers' institute held here Friday. The court house was comfortably filled with representative citizens of all classes, and, while special effort was made to reach the farmers, the proceedings were such as would benefit men in every line of business.

The morning session convened at 11 o'clock and up to the dinner hour three speeches had been made and the attention and applause accorded each speaker was conclusive evidence that their work in behalf of the farmers of South Carolina is not in vain and that great material benefit will result.

Col. J. S. Newman spoke on agriculture in general and labor-saving out many ways in which farm expenses can be reduced, which means implements in particular. He pointed more money in the farmers' pockets.

Prof. D. W. Daniel, assistant professor of English at Clemson, used as his subject "Industrial Education" and handled it in a masterly manner. This speech was exceptionally strong and elicited much favorable comment.

Prof. J. N. Harper, director of the experiment station at Clemson, made an able talk on "New Agriculture" and gave valuable information along the line of crop diversification. The audience was particularly interested in this subject, as many farmers in this county are disposed to adopt a system of crop rotation.

At the afternoon session appropriate talks were made by Prof. C. L. Goodrich and Mr. Guy L. Stewart of the department of agriculture and Prof. Conrad, entomologist at Clemson college.

The Hon. John E. Wannamaker, than whom there is no more active worker in the cause of agriculture in South Carolina, presided at the meeting, which was a success from every standpoint.

The party left on Saturday morning for Sumter where an institute was held that day.

CANDIDATES IN ORANGEBURG.

Final Meeting Before the Primary Held Saturday.

The final meeting, before the primary, of the Orangeburg county Democratic executive committee was held in the court house Saturday. Several matters of political interest were disposed of. Several would-be candidates, who failed to file their pledges within the required time, requested that they be allowed that privilege now, but the committee decided that under the rules this could not be done, so these gentlemen will have to wait two years before they can hope to serve the "dear people" in an official capacity. These requests referred to minor offices.

Several clubs have not yet been reorganized and were given until August 10 to effect their reorganization. The plan suggested at the county convention for the selection of cotton weavers in this county was made permanent. The arrangement provides that the entire county of cotton weavers in this county Orangeburg and those clubs near the various other platforms shall determine who are to perform this duty in their respective localities. Managers for the primary were also appointed.

Give Us the News.

If you know of an item or a piece of news, tell us about it. That's what we want. But a newspaper man sometimes experiences more difficulty in gathering news than one would imagine. This was the case when a reporter in a neighboring town, who, a few days ago was sent to write up a fire in a residence. Going to the door he inquired for the lady of the house. The maid said she was out. "Are any of the family at home?" inquired the scribe. "No, they are all out," was the reply. "Well, wasn't there a fire here last evening?" "Yes," said the hired girl, "but that's out too."

A Good Entertainment.

The Ladies Minstrel was presented to a good house at the Academy of Music on Thursday evening and it was enjoyed by all who attended. The show was composed of local talent and each one did their part well. It is understood that something over $100 was realized, which will go to the Hospital Fund.

A dispatch from Washington says that among the changes announced in the postal service for South Carolina is at Vance, Orangeburg County, George T. Dukes has been appointed postmaster, vice A. P. Aringer, resigned.

We have received an open boll of cotton which was raised in the Bowman section. This is the first we have heard of in this county.

A pocket book was found yesterday morning in Pittan Alley near Bryant Bros. stables. Owner can get same by calling at this office.

A very pleasant impromptu dance was given in the Elks Hall on Friday evening. About ten couples were present to enjoy the occasion.

The sparring match which was pulled off at the Academy of Music Friday evening was won by Wenick, who knocked out Slawson in the third round.

On Friday afternoon the Band gave a concert on the square, which was enjoyed by a large crowd. The Band appeared in their new uniforms, which gave them a very handsome appearance. Mr. O. B. Rossenger took a picture of the Band, which was good.

BANK OF ELLORIE.

Report at Stockholders' Meeting Shows Sound Condition.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Ellorree was held at Ellorree Friday afternoon. Mr. E. F. Ulmer was elected chairman of the meeting and Mr. W. M. Fair secretary. President Robert Lide made his annual report to the stockholders of the showing of the bank for the past year. His report showed the institution's affairs to be in sound condition.

While the net earnings have not been as much as the previous year, the figures were gratifying to all of the stockholders. Throughout the recent financial stringency the bank has maintained a reserve of available assets equal to the amount of its current deposits and at the same time has supplied all reasonable demands of its customers for loans.

The stockholders re-elected the following directors for the ensuing year: Robert Lide, W. F. Stack, J. D. Shuler, E. F. Irick, A. A. Dantzier and Dr. P. L. Felder. The directors met and re-elected the following officers: President, Robert Lide; vice president, W. F. Stack; cashier, W. M. Fair; assistant cashier, C. B. Dantzier; solicitors, Moss and Lide.

A Sad Death.

News was brought here this morning of the sad and unexpected death of little Louise Henrietta the little ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. A. Roesser of Charleston. SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE.

What is Causing the Increase of Catarrh in Orangeburg?

Catarrhal troubles are increasing, not only in Orangeburg but all over the country.

Catarrh is a germ disease and, to cure it, germ life in the nose, throat and lungs must be destroyed, and this can be done only by breathing Hyomei.

There is no dangerous stomach druging when Hyomei is used; no tablet or liquid mixtures whereby the digestion is often destroyed and intestinal troubles added to the horrors of catarrh.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its healing balsams penetrate the most remote air cells, destroying the catarrhal germs so that quick recovery follows. The complete outfit costs but $1.00, and Dr. J. G. Wannamaker Mfg. Co., agrees to refund the money should Hyomei fail to do all that is claimed for it.

There remain five months before the legislature meets, during which time the game season opens and the time is most critical for work. With $2,500 in hand the society can maintain the status and go into another year with the situation well in hand.

If sentiment be cast to the winds, just an ordinary common sense calculation will show that it is worth many times that amount to check violations for the coming season. Think how many thousands of young partridges can be saved during the months of September and October when the market-hunter is most active.

COTTON CROP'S CONDITION.

Government Reports Note Improvement Over Last Month.

The average condition of cotton was 83 per cent on July 25, as against 81.2 a month ago, and 75 a year ago, according to the report of the department of agriculture given out on the first. The condition on the condition of cotton on July 25 in 1906, 74.9 in 1905 and 81.4 for the past ten years.

The condition to cotton on July 25 and the ten year averages respectively by States follows:

Indiana, 90 and 93; North Carolina, 89 and 91; South Carolina, 84 and 80; Georgia, 85 and 81; Florida, 85 and 84; Alabama, 85 and 81; Mississippi, 86 and 80; Louisiana, 83 and 82; Texas, 82 and 82; Arkansas, 86 and 82; Tennessee, 88 and 84; Missouri, 88 and 84; Oklahoma, 66 and 65.

Mrs. Laura Owens, of 1103 Pendleton street, Columbia, S. C., says "My son had malaria fever for two months. Used Globe Tonic and was benefited by the first dose. One bottle improved him so much that he was able to go to work." Samples free or $1 bottles 50c at L. S. Broughton, St. Orangeburg, S. C.

A large shipment of pound paper just received at Sims Book Store, which will be sold for 25 cents a pound.

STATE LEAGUE CLOSES

FINISH FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP WAS CLOSE.

Sumter Wins the Pennant With Chester a Close Second—Orangeburg Brings Up the Rear.

The State says when the last batter went out in the Sumter-Orangeburg game at Sumter Saturday afternoon and the last batter went out in the Chester-Rock Hill game at Chester, the third season of the South Carolina State league came to a close with Sumter the winner for the second time.

Camden under the management of Guy Gunter went out in 1906. Gunter was manager at Sumter last year and landed his team in first place. P. A. Dingle turns the trick for the Gamecock city this season, while Mr. Caldwell takes second place with his Chester hustlers. Guy Gunter holds third place with his Rock Hill bunch, while Orangeburg, under the leadership of Sturtevant, closed the season in last place.

The little four-club league has given to the fans of the four towns making up the circuit season of good baseball and great interest has been taken by the fans of the four towns. Sumter and Chester made a great fight for the pennant and the flag goes to Sumter by 32 points, Sumter having won one more game than Chester and lost three less.

The players of the league will now depart for their homes or other ball fields, while fans will talk about next year's league and who will win the 1909 pennant.

The following is the standing of the clubs at the end of the season:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Sumter	41	27	603
Chester	40	30	571
Rock Hill	28	40	412
Orangeburg	27	39	409

THE AUDUBON SOCIETY.

A Full Statement of That Society to Date.

President B. F. Taylor has mailed me a statement of the amount received by the Audubon Society of South Carolina, since the 15th day of last December.

It is such a remarkable one, that one could wish to preserve it as a memorial of an achievement to be handed down to future generations. Has any State anything to compare with it, the good accomplished for the amount of money handled?

Let the report speak for itself. Received from Game Protection Fund . . . $1,607.23
Received from membership dues 1,158.50
Cash on hand at last report 52.17

Total Receipts . . . $2,817.90
Cash on hand with Treasurer . . . 4.99

Amount Expended to date $2,812.91
Less than $3,000 for the pay of wardens, lawyers, printing the laws of the State, secretary's salary and traveling expenses, and all the other things connected with enforcing the bird, game and fish laws of a State.

The State of Alabama pays her game and fish commissioner $2,500 a year and all expenses. The State of Alabama can not show as many convictions as can the State of South Carolina; it can not begin to show the amount of educational work done everywhere among the people, which is at last the true test of effectiveness, for this alone assures the permanency of the work.

Now it has been urged in language as strong as it could be made that the Audubon Society needs help and needs it at this hour. There will be no time in the future when so much good can be done by so little expenditure. The ground gained ought to be maintained at all costs and it can be with a reasonable amount of help.

There remain five months before the legislature meets, during which time the game season opens and the time is most critical for work. With $2,500 in hand the society can maintain the status and go into another year with the situation well in hand.

If sentiment be cast to the winds, just an ordinary common sense calculation will show that it is worth many times that amount to check violations for the coming season. Think how many thousands of young partridges can be saved during the months of September and October when the market-hunter is most active.

Will the sportsmen of the State permit this? Have they not enough regard for the cause of saving the birds to contribute each his quota? When it is figured down it will be seen that each sportsman is asked merely to give 250 shells to the cause—about what he would shoot away in one week.

There has not been a violation reported in South Carolina that the Audubon Society has failed to handle, no matter where it was, no matter what it cost to handle it. This has been done by the practice of rigid economy all along the line. There ought to be five hundred men in the whole State of South Carolina, with its one hundred and thirty thousand white voters who would contribute six dollars each to such a cause. That would be only a dozen to a county.

James Henry Rice, Jr.,
Secretary.

New Business.

The Globe Remedy Company has opened a branch store at 14 South Broughton Street, (Crum Building) for the purpose of introducing and advertising their medicines. The public is invited to call and get free samples of their Globe Tonic—the world's best medicine for the liver and kidneys.

A Live Ghost.

An Alken dispatch to the News and Courier says: "The other night while Officer Busch was walking his beat he saw an object in white approaching him, and upon investigation found that it was a gentleman who was walking in his slumbers. A little dog began to bark at him and the somnambulist was awakened, to his great surprise finding himself upon the street in his night clothes."

RAILWAY BEAUTY SPOTS.

Phlox and Hydrangeas For Stations. Blue Grass For Right of Way.

One of the good things for which people have to thank the railroads is the progress they are making in beautifying their right of way.

It is the practice of the Pennsylvania, as Moody's Magazine points out, to surround its passenger stations, which are practically the doorways to towns and cities, with little parks with terraces and gracefully curving paths and roadways. To care for these station parks is part of the duty of the maintenance of way department, just as it is to keep the rails and ties in good order. Flowers and shrubbery are planted in artistic plots, and gardeners keep them fresh and flourishing.

At a station on the Long Island railroad, which is a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania, 600 trees and shrubs besides beds of phlox and hydrangeas were set out this year. For another station on the Long Island 425 shrubs and twelve trees have been ordered of the so called perennials and evergreens.

In the open country, too, far from towns, the Pennsylvania has adopted the policy of making its right of way pleasant to look at. Slopes of unsightly rock or dirt are transformed into green terraces.

Henceforth the standard roadbed, when the tracks are in a cut, will include the sodded slopes. Blue grass used for sodding will prevent the erosion which has given engineers so much trouble in times past. In helping to solve the drainage problem the grass is even more useful than it is ornamental.

CITY ROSE HEDGE.

How a Small Back Yard Was Easily Made a Beauty Spot.

Iron fences can easily be made attractive and greatly enhance the beauty of a town by following the scheme described in this article:

There is a little two story house on a street in West Philadelphia that boasts one of the prettiest rose hedges that ever reminded the tired city dweller of green lawns and country gardens. The house has, as most West Philadelphia houses do, a wee bit of sodded yard behind it—only a few feet square and surrounded by a low iron fence.

Over this fence the roses trail, gay crimson ramblers and dainty pink ramblers and rare bits of sweetbrier. From the street through the narrow distance that separates the house from its neighboring "pair" the passerby catches glimpses of what looks like some lovely pleasure garden. In the warm days the family who live in the little house all the year around eat their supper in a corner of the yard beside the roses, and on summer afternoons they entertain callers there. It is one of the prettiest places in town, this back yard of a little two story house.

And all that the little housewife did was to buy some little rose plants, the climbing kind, and train them over that ugly wire fence.

High Culture Manifest.

Surely we are undergoing a pleasing development in civic life in the matter of municipal beauty, cleanliness and conveniences. Those places are indeed behind the times which provide no resting places, drinking fountains and evidence of community pride and thrift. The individual may help much toward the desired goal if he only cleans and cares for his own premises in a proper manner. Work of this kind, like the measles, is highly contagious and soon affects the community generally. Visitors wonder why such a place is so much more attractive than others similarly situated and are unconsciously attracted and if looking for a home will not fail to consider the live, up to date appearance when the final decision to settle is made. Tidy up your premises and brighten the scene with a few flowers.

How to Improve Your Premises.

Every person who owns city property, village farm or country homestead should consider what might be done to improve the looks of the premises. Many of us will find the shade trees are full of dead limbs or limbs in drying condition for the want of some plant food to encourage new growth. Cut out all dead wood. Trim the trees so that the branches will be well balanced all round. Clean up the yards. Free the roadsides of bushes and brush and burn them. Paint the buildings or repair as needed.

In God's World.

My heart throbs with pity
For him of the city
Whose feet never press the green sod.

For he lives, with his clan,
In a world made by man
And not in the world made by God.

Ah, I would roam over
The fields full of clover
On carpets of fragrance and bloom.

I would breathe the free air,
Feel the warm sunshine rare
And live where is plenty of room.

I love to be straying
Where meadow brooks playing
Sing melodies soothing and sweet.
